

CLAIM

We claim

Sub
B2
A2
1. A computer mouse characterized by using a magnet, to press the rubber magnetic core ball against the coordinates X and Y shafts only; and there is no third contact between the ball and any other part of the mouse, especially no third contact between the ball and another wheel (Fig. 2).

Authors: David Darian Muresan and David Muresan

November 6th, 2002